Subject: Happy Financial New Year half price offer for you , & Happy hours too

Dear Larissa,

Have you made any Financial New Year resolutions? Do they fit with your significant other? What if you don't end up with the happy ever after (yes, research shows the majority of us end up with 2 - 3 significant relationships in life)? Remember, even if you're in a long term relationship and haven't yet, you can create a Binding Financial Agreement or BFA. In the Army BFA meant Basic Fitness Assessment so take my word when I say the financial BFA is less painful! And I often joke that I'll get a husband before a tattoo because I can get rid of him easier than the tattoo. Seriously, it eases everyone's anguish in separation if the financial discussion was settled when things were going well (again, speaking from experience ;-)

So here's a special Financial New Year offer for you if you'd like to explore your financial and intimate relationship further (including that most important relationship with yourself). The Bedside Guide to S&M: How to have Sizzling S and More Money in your relationship is HALF PRICE until 31st July (ie get $10 cash sent back inside the book once purchased - cheques sent for international purchases). The book must be alright as my neighbour came and asked me for another copy for her hairdresser! So Hppy New Year - here's to a new bank balance!!

Wishing you a healthy mind, body AND wallet!

Life's lighter side Please accept that no offence is intended. If you have a sense of humour, you are on the way to good health

There is no place like home, which is why I go out every night.

There is one advantage to being poor. Doctors will cure you faster. Larissa's note: I did hear that in the private health system they send you for every test to work out what it isn't whereas in the public system they try to find it as fast as possible and get you back out on the street ;-)
